New York, NY (PRWEB) -- 10 billion different possibilities for your customized chocolate bar not enough? Chocri, the world's first company that allows you to create your own organic and fair trade chocolate bar online, introduced its new "White and Milk Chocolate Combination" base chocolate. 10 billion just exploded.

Chocri lovers now have the option to combine two of their two favorite bases, White and Milk Chocolate, into one chocolate bar. The new chocolate combo is now one of four base chocolates (in addition to white, milk and dark chocolate), which can be complemented with a personal choice from over 100 toppings, ranging from Candied Rose Petals to Cayenne Pepper. In addition, every chocolate bar can be given its own personalized name that is then printed on the packaging.

The quality of the chocri chocolate bar is reflected not only in its superior taste, but also in its respect for the environment and for fair working conditions. All chocri chocolates are organic and fair trade. In addition, 1% of all sales of the chocolate bars are donated to DIV Kinder, a charity that supports children in Ivory Coast, the biggest exporter of cacao beans.

Chocri is part of a design-your-own trend that is taking hold of the U.S. In the last year, a wide variety of startups have begun to give consumers control over the products they create, ranging from dress shirts to jewelry and - chocolate.
